

Looking Ahead to Millstreet

for att: Siobhan English

Dear Editor,

With delight i reserved in the post this week a programme for this years All Ireland Championship in the Greenglens Millstreet. Once again we can look forward to this great show that was such a loss to competitors and producers of young horses in this country last year, it is sad that in these times that the powers that be could not come to agreement! for what ever reason. Like all great shows such as Dublin and Cavan to name but a few producers need this show.

Millstreet Summer Show has been a part of our lives for so many years, it is once again great credit due to the Duggan family and its staff that the show is on again in this wonderful venue. This years schedule is second to none and we can look forward to so many great classes.

Looking forward to meeting many of our old friends that has always made us so welcome.

Regards

David Masterson
